FELLOWSHIPS PROGRAM

DATE : December 19, 2022

This refers to the Queensland University of Technology's (QUT) call for nominations for the Australian Awards Fellowships Program, which will focus on the development of a coaching and mentoring framework supporting inclusive education towards the attainment of the Basic Education Plan 2030.

Moreover, the program aims to develop a cadre of regional inclusive education champions who will develop and coordinate inclusive education mentoring circles in their respective regions, who will lead in:

- 1) Producing framework relevant to the Philippine context, which could be used by schools as a self-evaluation tool for assessing the quality of inclusive education practices;
- 2) Developing inclusive education action plans in each school with priorities based on analysis of consultation with key stakeholders in the school community;

- 3) Developing the capacity of schools to support and monitor the school improvement process, particularly in fostering inclusive practices; and
- 4) Developing the capacity of clusters of schools to work collaboratively to support the development of more inclusive practices in their respective schools. The focus is to broaden the fellows' understanding of a range of services, strategies, and providers to facilitate equitable access to education for children and youth with disabilities.

Senior executive officials and mid-level officials who have the expertise and have made significant contributions to inclusive education initiatives of the Department (e.g., Indigenous Peoples Education Program, Special Education, and Gender Equality) and are willing to be in Australia for two (2) to four (4) weeks are eligible nominees.

In view of the foregoing, each Regional Office may submit one qualified nominee approved by their respective Regional Directors through the attached Nomination Form (see Annex A) to asec.gfo@deped.gov.ph on or before December 23, 2022 at 5 PM.
