About the theme:

In today's fast-paced work landscape, the spotlight has largely been on honing the technical competencies and skills of leaders and individuals rather than on nurturing the essential soft skills. However, the global upheaval brought by the pandemic has led to a realization – organizations should not just thrive but also contribute positively to the society and to the nation as a whole. This necessitates the discovery of their core purpose, their NorthStar aspiration guiding them towards future sustainability. It answers the question "Why the organization exists?".

Leadership is more than just a job or title; it is a way of life. Today's competitive work environment needs a leader who has a NorthStar aspiration, guiding them to redirect their actions with purpose and drive meaningful and sustainable transformations. With this comes the concept of purpose-driven leadership, empowering individuals to lead with purpose, connect with a deeper sense of meaning, engage in work that resonates with their values, creates a positive impact in the society and inspire team to achieve greater things. This, in turn, fosters a culture of sustainability and transformation within the organization.

This one-day virtual event will cover the concepts of purpose-driven leadership and its importance in leading organization, cultivate a culture of sustainability, and identify best practices of leading with purpose for a sustainable organizational transformation. It will also provide participants with insights and strategies to lead with purpose. Our pool of resource speakers will share their experience and expertise, equipping participants towards becoming purpose-driven leaders that can not only drive sustainable organizational transformations but also leave lasting positive impact within the team, the organization, the society and beyond.
