Background

The Asia-Pacific Centre of Education for International Understanding (APCEIU) is a UNESCO Category 2 Centre established in 2000 by the Agreement between the Government of the Republic of Korea and UNESCO in order to promote Education for International Understanding (EIU) and Global Citizenship Education (GCED) in the Asia-Pacific region and beyond. EIU is a UNESCO initiative to promote a Culture of Peace through education, which is central to UNESCO's mission. EIU aims to foster global citizens with values, attitudes, knowledge and skillsets necessary for learning to live together and overcoming racial, cultural, and religious conflicts. In recent years, this mission has been reaffirmed by the adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Education 2030. The SDG-4 and the accompanying Target

4.71 highlights the importance of promoting global citizenship education (GCED).

As a centre with accumulated experience and expertise in EIU/GCED, APCEIU provides various training workshops and teachers' exchange programmes to build educators' capacities and organizes international conferences and seminars to create dialogue and influence policies and publications teaching and learning materials to promote EIU/GCED. In particular, the EIU/GCED Best Practices aim to encourage educators, scholars and activists to implement EIU/GCED programmes by collecting and sharing success stories in promoting EIU/GCED in different social and cultural contexts. Since 2006, the EIU/GCED Best Practices have introduced 49 inspiring practices by educators in the Asia-Pacific region. To further encourage practitioners' participation in the field, the programme has been closely linked to APCEIU's EIU/GCED capacity-building programmes and networks. This approach has not only helped to identify and disseminate good practices but also brought positive results in encouraging participants of APCEIU's training workshops to continue their efforts on the ground after the completion of the workshops.

Objectives

- To identify innovative practices of EIU/GCED that have been successfully implemented and can serve as learning models of EIU/GCED;
- To encourage studies and further practical implementation of EIU/GCED;
- To strengthen the foundation for EIU/GCED in the Asia-Pacific and beyond by disseminating good initiatives and practices from different countries and regions; and
- To encourage follow-up activities of APCEIU alumni in the respective field.

Scope
